N.O.A.H., Stanwood, WA; New Medical Equipment Made Possible with Grant from ASPCA

Aside from adopting out animals, The NOAH Center also provides spay/neuter services to low-income members of the community and various organizations. Having fully functional medical equipment that is up to date and state of the art is important for continuing to provide those resources to pet owners who need them.

With the grant that we received from ASPCA, The NOAH Center was able to purchase medical equipment that is vital to our everyday medical procedures. We are able to provide animals with x-rays when they need them, dental services and monitoring devices that are necessary while in surgery. Additionally, the grant will allow for us to supplement our new clinic that we are currently in the works of building with supplies.
